

The 7th Annual ANGIS 2018 Conference (ANGIS - INDIA Meeting 2018)

GIS – Connecting Geography, History & Economics....

Looking Beyond Where

Date: November 29th - December 1st , 2018

Venue: The University of Burdwan, Burdwan, INDIA

Organizers: The Asian Network for GIS-based Historical Studies, Tokyo; and

Department of Geography and Geospatial Science, The University of Burdwan

Website: <https://sites.google.com/geo.buruniv.ac.in/angis-2018/home>

Dear ANGIS Members, Colleagues, and Students of GIS-based Historical Studies on Asia, and Others-

The Asian Network of GIS-based Historical Studies (ANGIS), in collaboration with the Department of Geography and Department of Geospatial Science, The University of Burdwan, is pleased to announce the Call for Papers for the 7th ANGIS Conference (ANGIS 2018) to be held on November 29th - December 1st, 2018 at The University of Burdwan, Burdwan, West Bengal, INDIA.

Focusing on Asian history and aiming to promote multidisciplinary approaches in tracing spatial and temporal processes, the upcoming ANGIS Conference will continue to serve as a venue for sharing research progress in historical studies in Asia based on GIS in the fields of Geography, History, Economics, Heritage studies, Spatial Analysis and Modeling, and GIS. We hope these efforts would contribute to generate new perspectives and stimulate deeper explorations in historical research.

ANGIS 2018 welcomes papers from humanity or social science fields focusing upon Asian history with the application of GIS and/or other mapping methods. Topics include economic history, urban history, migrant history, historical demography, maritime history and transportation, history of disasters and diseases, social change, historical anthropology, landscape change, environmental history, archaeology, heritage conservation and other related subjects under the broad sub-themes like 1. Landscape Dynamics; 2. Historical Events and Societal Behaviour; 3. Geo-heritage, Geo-archaeology and tourism; 4. Trade Relations and Trade Routes; 5. Resources and Economy: Database and Monitoring; and 6. Climate Change.

Please note that papers should be original works not yet submitted for publication, published, or presented elsewhere. Papers presented in the Conference could be included in forthcoming issues of the ANGIS E-journal (JANGIS) after peer review. Abstracts of 200-250 words should be submitted to angisbu2018@gmail.com and bbiswas@geo.buruniv.ac.in by October 14th 2018. Please send your abstract and paper as per the JANGIS Journal.

Conference registration fees for participants does not include accommodation. The cost of the accommodation during the said conference will have to be borne by the participants.

On behalf of the ANGIS Burdwan Organizing Committee, we look forward to both receiving your paper proposals and meeting you at the The University of Burdwan in November-December 2018.

Situated on the lush green campus of Golapbag, the Department of Geography was established in 1969 with the late Prof. Satyesh Chakraborty, a very distinguished Indian geographer, as its founder Head. The Department has achieved the prestigious SAP DRS Programme of the University Grants Commission and FIST Programme of the Department of Science & Technology, Government of India. The Department offers M. A. /M. Sc., M. Phil and Ph. D. Programmes. The major thrust areas of research are Geomorphology (Theoretical & Applied), Soil and Land Use, Environmental and Urban Issues, Regional Development, Remote Sensing & GIS, etc.

The Department of Geospatial Science was established in the year 2014 to cater to the students interested in spatial science and representation of geospatial data. Currently, the department works in tandem with some of the renowned organizations in India such as National Remote Sensing Center (NRSC), Hyderabad; Regional Remote Sensing Centers at different zones.

Yours sincerely

Convener: Dr. Biplab Biswas, Department of Geography, The University of Burdwan, Burdwan, INDIA

Prof. Tsukasa Mizushima, ANGIS(Japan) Secretary, The University of Tokyo, 7-3-1 Hongo, Bunkyo-ku, Tokyo 1130033, Japan